

List of: MIDWAY BLACKSMITHS

Names:	Pedigree	Pict. Shop	HBUM	FGS	Pict.	Hist.
Henry Lofey Alexander & Susan Davis	✓		708	✓✓✓	✓✓	✓
Henry Coleman	✓		726-722	✓	✓✓	✓
Henry Thre Ikeld Coleman	✓		544	✓	✓✓	✓
George Dabling	✓		647	✓		✓
Atha Carter Davis = son	✓		932			✓
John Meeks Davis = father	✓		648	✓✓		✓
William (Billy Plumb) Gibson (Last Blacksmith in Midway)	✓		573
William "E" Gibson	✓		573	✓
Samuel ("Sam") Hair & Hannah Mulholland	✓		580 581 738	✓	✓✓	✓
Robert Krebs ^{call Ron Fillmore} _{2 wives - need Anne & Mariela}	✓		573	✓ 0
John Lowe	✓		663			✓
Joseph Sinius Nielson 4 wives (1863-1927)	✓	573	691	✓ 000		✓
John Potter			573 691			✓
Robert Bell Ross Jr	✓	✓	785	✓	✓✓	✓
Jerry Ro ^{vey} Springer	✓		792	✓	✓✓	✓
Ernest White			573
John Wright			573

BLACKSMITHS

Shoes for horses and oxen, wagon and buggy tires, sharpened and tempered, plow shares and drills and picks were just a few of the essentials needed by early settlers of Midway. For these necessities they looked to the blacksmiths of the community.

Fires of the huge forges would often glow late into the night and the anvils would ring as the blacksmiths worked to keep the farmers ready for another day's work. Services were usually paid for in produce, exchanged labor or whatever means of exchange was most readily available.

Those who were most prominent in the trade in Midway included Henry Alexander, Joseph Neilsen, John Wright, Henry T. Coleman, Robert Krebs, Samuel (Sam) Hair, Robert Ross, Ernest White, J. R. Springer and William Gibson. Mr. Gibson operated the last blacksmith shop in the community.

DR. R. R. GREEN
375 E. 2ND ST. No.
HEBER CITY, UTAH
84032

Call
Rayon
Hair

which
Sam Hair
Had Blocksmith
Shop
